Around the World in Eighty Days (1873) relates the hair-raising journey made as a wager by the Victorian gentleman Phileas Fogg, who succeeds but only just in circling the globe within eighty days. Fogg's obsession with his timetable is complemented by the dynamism and versatility of his French manservant Passepartout, whose talent for getting into scrapes brings colour and suspense to the race against time.

Comparative approaches to informal housing around the globe bring together historians, anthropologists, political scientists, sociologists, urban planners, and political activists to break new ground in the globalisation of knowledge about informal housing, providing both methodological reflections and practical examples. They compare informal settlements, unauthorised occupation of flats, illegal housing, construction, and political squatting in different regions of the world. Subjects covered include squatter settlements in Kyrgyzstan and Kazakhstan, squatting activism in Brazil and Spain, right-wing squatting in Germany, planning laws and informality across countries in the Global North, and squatting in post-Second World War UK and Australia.
