this book is a defense of perspectivism in the age of post truth at the crossroads of science art and philosophy it unearths a tradition that we must rediscover the point of view is not only what divides it is also what is shared today perspective is associated with individualism and personal viewpoints but in an age of post truth the only robust answer to relativism lies in fact in a reappraisal of perspectivism in discussion with contemporary new realisms of various sorts this book makes a case why perspectivism alone can avoid us falling back into epistemological naivetés a journey into the history of optics art philosophy and social psychology this book unearths the forgotten tradition of perspectiva communis which makes perspective the vector of a common horizon this book argues that vision is never immediate rather to see through is the key to understanding the perspectival operation we never see by ourselves all seeing must pass through something other than itself through the mediation and the detour of an apparatus or the witness of a third party besides the theoretical framework for this new approach to perspective this book presents a series of case studies ranging from innovative interpretations of classical authors and key moments in the history of art from ancient painting trompe l'oeil and brunelleschi's experiment in renaissance florence to the issue of perspective in the work of contemporary artists such as robert smithson the share of perspective will be of interest to scholars and advanced students working in aesthetics phenomenology art history and the history of sciences psychoanalysis is a historical discourse of suffering and healing under conditions of modernity rather than a metaphysical discourse of universal truth and must be so due to the ontological indeterminacy of psychic life demonstrating this proceeds through the substantiation of two primary theses first pluralism in psychoanalysis thus the perspectival character of psychoanalytic knowing is irreducible second psychic life is partially pliable to interpretive constitution rather than a self subsistent object domain fully available to third personal objective description together these theses provide the framework for a radical rethinking of the authority of psychoanalytic knowledge and practice and of the nature of psychoanalytic claims to objectivity psychoanalytic interpretations are best understood as existentially interrogative they test who and how one might be and if successful to some extent identity formative the validity conditions of psychoanalytic knowledge thus concern the creation discovery of satisfactory forms of practice orienting self narration rather than those regularly operative in the natural sciences however an adequate assessment of psychoanalytic claims requires that the claims of science are given due consideration and the impediments to practice orienting self narration under conditions of late modernity are acknowledged perspective has been a divided subject orphaned among various disciplines from philosophy to gardening in the first book to bring together recent thinking on perspective from such fields as art history literary theory aesthetics psychology and the history of mathematics james elkins leads us to a new understanding of how we talk about pictures elkins provides an abundantly illustrated history of the theory and practice of perspective looking at key texts from the renaissance to the present he traces a fundamental historical change that took place in the way in which perspective was conceptualized first a technique for constructing pictures it slowly became a metaphor for subjectivity that gradual transformation he observes has led to the rifts that today separate those who understand perspective as a historical or formal property of pictures from those who see it as a linguistic cognitive or epistemological metaphor elkins considers how the principal concepts of perspective have been rewritten in work by erwin panofsky hubert damisch martin jay paul ricoeur jacques lacan maurice merleau ponty and e h gombrich the poetics of perspective illustrates that perspective is an unusual kind of subject it exists as a coherent idea but no one discipline offers an adequate exposition of it rather than presenting perspective as a resonant metaphor for subjectivity a painter s tool without meaning a disused historical practice or a model for vision and representation elkins proposes a comprehensive revaluation the perspective he describes is at once a series of specific pictorial decisions and a powerful figure for our knowledge of the world kant in the critique of pure reason only dedicates a few pages to the principle of anticipations of perception and only a few critical studies are outspokenly dedicated to this issue in recent critical literature but if one considers the history of post kantian philosophy one can immediately perceive the great importance of the new definition of the relationship between reality and negation which kant s principle proposes critical philosophy is here radically opposed to the pre critical metaphysical tradition reality no longer appears as absolutely positive being which excludes all negativity from itself and negation is not reduced to being a simple removal the mere absence of being instead reality and negation behave as an equally positive something in respect to one another such that negation is itself a reality that is actively opposed to another reality such a definition of the relation between reality and negation became indispensable for post kantian philosophy and represents a central aspect of kantian inspired philosophy in respect to leibnizian metaphysics the present work therefore departs from the hypothesis that the essential philosophical importance of the anticipations of perception can only be fully measured by exploring its impact in the post kantian debate the subject of art in process not only sets out to construct a new visual based paradigm one that attempts to address the vast array of complexities facing today s artists but perhaps more importantly it opens the door to a possible renewed art education the subject of art in process introduces iiae interactive interdisciplinary art education an orientation grounded in the practice of inner image outer image fluency of individual subjects engaged as members in a community of voices and as activators inter activators and retro activators and in particular selfteachers intra activators in a community of voices that share interdisciplinary knowledge moody memorial church pastor erwin lutzer deals with 10 fundamental questions ranging from the problem of unanswered prayer to death and dying to biblical perspectives on homosexuality in a major contribution to the theory of perception a d smith presents a truly original defense of direct realism the view that in perception we are directly aware of things in a physical world it offers two arguments against direct realism one concerning illusion and one concerning hallucination that upto now no theory of perception could adequately rebut at the heart of smiths theory is a new way of drawing the distinction between perception and sensation alone with an unusual treatment of the nature of object of hallucination

focused on the political and cultural influences that impact careers this book is a satirical and penetrating analysis of american business management based on decades of in the trenches marketing and management experiences this candid assessment of corporate life is invaluable in making good career decisions and recognizing the signs of companies headed for trouble
