the press in india had been a powerful force since its inception it not only influenced the minds of the people but has also remained a guiding star in the lives of succeeding generations during the colonial era journals and newspapers started and managed by the nationalist indians rattled british authorities and forced them to introduce stringent measures against the press particularly against the vernacular press many a time journals and newspapers were to face proscription from the imperial authorities as fiery articles they feared would push the nation into great chaos such was the power of the press since no journalist organisation in chennai had all the documents related to the study i made use of websites of different organisations newspapers and magazines however a large chunk of information was culled out from the documents preserved in the office of the madras union of journalists i profusely thank its office bearers for permitting me the access but for their help the task of documentation and study would have been more strenuous as indicated elsewhere in this book the splits in journalist s unions has split their office records also hence a yawning gap is noticed in the history of different unions in chennai some organisations have only limited records in the form of their constitution occasional newsletters or handouts be the change you want to see in the world is an inspiring statement if it is internalised and practiced systems and environments are the products of the man s internal environment in any circumstance if anyone wishes to work passionately with the sense of commitment achievements and adventures are obvious results in indian higher learning institutions opportunities are sky high for the teachers provided he or she has obsession and commitment this small book is the record of the academic activities of an academician it is an interesting and enjoyable academic journey in all the three dimensions namely teaching research and outreach activities it is full of challenges and responses finally in the journey the whole life becomes more meaningful and excitement the three dimensional activities brought the teacher name in the academic world policy making groups and in the community finally the teacher emerges an academic activist it demonstrates the potentials and the opportunities in the academic world ironically as telecommunications technology the embodiment of modernity advances bringing people in different nations into more direct contact during conflict situations traditional cultural factors become increasingly important as differing ways of thinking and acting collide the mass media can be seen as a factor in the creation of international conflict they also claim many scholars are the key to control and resolution of those problems whichever side of the coin one chooses to look at mass communication as cause or cure of conflict there is no doubt that the news media are no longer peripheral players on the global scene they are important participants whose organizational patterns of behavior values and motivations must be taken into account in understanding national and international conflict in this volume a distinguished group of authors explores the variety of ways the news media newspapers radio and television are involved in conflict situations conflicts between the united states and iran india and pakistan and the united states and china are examined and national level studies in sri lanka iran hong kong and the united states provide varied contexts in which the authors look at the complex interrelationships among government news media and the public in conflict situations
